CORONA VIRUS AND SELF ISOLATION

There is a high chance your humans may suddenly start working from home or just spend a lot of time at home due to this big virus going around.

They could be stuck in the house with you from 14 days up to three months or even longer.

Your humans may not want to take you/or be able to take you out for your regular walks and once the novelty of having your human to play with all day every day wears off, you may start getting bored.

This is where you need to work with your human so that both of you benefit from any activities you can do at home.

Some ideas to help beat the boredom:

Training - spending a few minutes once or twice a day will not only help strengthen the bond between you and your human, it will help towards better behaviour and rewards once you are allowed back out on adventures again.

Treat Ball - getting your human to fill your treat ball is a good distraction and good for mental stimulation as you have to work to get the treats out of the ball.

The only downside is that you need to be careful you do not put weight on with all of the extra treats.

Playing with toys - some pals are able to play by themselves with toys but some require human interaction. Depending on how busy your humans are, may depend on how frequently you can play with them.

Indoor fetch - this is a great game to burn off some energy as your human gets a pile of your toys and throws one. Then when you bring that one back, they throw the next one. This gets you very tired very quickly and usually results in a nice long snooze afterwards.

Outdoor fetch - this is similar to indoor fetch but done in your garden, if it is safe for you and your human to venture out there during isolation.

Grooming - sometimes the best way to get rid of some energy is having your human brushing you, cleaning your teeth, clipping your nails or even giving you a bath !! Although this can be a high energy exercise for some humans BOL!

Massage - I find having a nice long massage when I cannot settle in the evenings is good for relaxing me. Not only does it relax my muscles, it helps me to get used to having my feet and ears touched. Which makes life easier for everyone during vet visits BOL!

Hide and seek - you could play hide and seek with your humans. They could hide a treat or toy and you can try to find it. Even if there is limited space, a few treats or toys placed under a blanket in the middle of a floor is good.

Keeping in touch with pals - in this day and age there should be very few animals and humans that are truly alone during any period of isolation. There are several social media platforms, and other platforms where your humans can make video calls.

Even your ancient humans that do not have the knowledge of modern technology should still have a phone that your human can ring them and chat with them.

So if you or someone you know has to be in isolation, please remember to take five minutes out of your day to reach out a paw and make sure they are ok.

Stay safe pals !!

A MESSAGE FROM TIGGER

Hi Pals,
I hope everyone is staying safe and supporting their humans during this virus outbreak.

Humans have lost the plot by hoarding. Although why they are hoarding hundreds and hundreds of toilet rolls is a bit confusing to me.

Hopefully they will run out of money/space soon and then the everyone else can get back to normal shopping - while remaining at the officially recommended safe distances from each other etc..

At the minute my products and stock availability are still freely available as my suppliers have said they are still able to cope with the current demand.

If you are after something but do not see it on my website, contact me and I will see if I can get it for you. Apart from toilet roll BOL!

Nose bump to you
Tigger

NEWS FROM DORIS - THE ROVING REPORTER

I can't believe it, I've only been to Amsterdam pals! I've always wanted to go as the humans said it's 'fun'. Well it was but I probably enjoyed it for different reasons. We parked over the river so I got to ride a ferry, which was the best, and I got to snooze in a comfy pub. Therefore Amsterdam was fab! What wasn't so nice were the crowds, the rain and the cobbles. The canals were ok I suppose, oh and the history and architecture.

Before Amsterdam we visited two very lovely Dutch villages called Tholen and Strijensas. Both tiny, both pretty and pristine and Tholen complete with a perfect working windmill (which thrilled Elaine!) There was also real treat for me on the way though, I went to meet some old twitter friends called Diba and Banu. They are deerhounds that live in a lovely part of The Netherlands. It was wonderful to see them and see their sniffing grounds. Diba led the walk showing me the dykes whilst Banu pointed out the cats. Daan just looked out for the local children who love to pet him.

It was about that week that the double storms came in, remember Storm Ciara? Gosh it was windy in the van, 65mph gusts, hail and rain. We had to stay put for a couple of days before creeping up the coast to Vollandam, a tourist harbour town. Like all of Dutch towns it's very well kept and pretty, in the summer it's packed but during storm conditions empty! Lots of coloured houses, and of course, a windmill. The Dutch also seem to have very clean windows (as noticed by Elaine, obvs not me)

The Netherlands are full of quaint, dog friendly towns, windmills and cycle lanes. It's very, very nice, very polite and very civilised. In fact the only bad thing we could find about Holland was the motorways, being a small country you never felt far away from one. I would highly recommend it, oh and don't bother asking hostellers if you can enter with a dog.... of course you can!

Fun and clogs,
Doris

YODA AND CHEEZLT'S SCRATCHING POST

Hi everypawdy!
We hope that all our friends have been staying safe and staying healthy.

We have heard Momma saying that to a lot of people, kitties, doggies... everyone that she talks to. It sounds like there must be some serious situation going on right now. It sounds scary for the humans...they are all going batty! We don't wish any bad stuff to anyone.
However, as long as we have our food, water, litter, toys, and entertainment...that is all that matters. Oh, and food for the birds and squirrels, too! We need that so we can watch our CatTV. Momma knows this. She is quite outnumbered, and does not want a mutiny or an "accident" to happen. If we're not happy, then nobody is happy (or safe).

You know what.... Humans can learn a lot about self-care and about this "social distancing" stuff by paying attention to us cats! We are complete experts on these topics. We excel when it comes to isolation! It's what we're made for (well, except those big lion kitties).

We take excellent care of ourselves with little human intervention, and can survive on little to no human contact.
Most cat slaves (humans) have taken on some of these isolating cat traits, simply from being around cats for so long.

Our Momma has better night vision than most humans, she has excellent hearing, and she is quiet and stealthy like a ninja/cat. She's been around cats for over 30 years...no wonder she's part cat!

So, if any human is concerned about not being able to cope in these physically isolating times, just take a look at cat related anything on the internet.

Anything cat related is a great instructional video...for many aspects of human life. Plus, gazing upon our feline perfection and beauty is a great way to spend your spare time.

Until Next Month,
Yoda & Cheezlt... and the others

DUSTY'S DIARY

Hi Pals,
It's been another eventful month for me. As you will know, I do like to keep the local squirrels on their toes, and give them a good woofing whenever I am in the woods.

They're not afraid of me tho, and just run six feet up the nearest tree, where the brave ones chitter angrily at me, their furry tails twitching enticingly.

Well, pals I can't tell you how close I got to finally catching myself a furry blighter.

He led me on such a chase diving between the trees, and then all of a sudden he had disappeared and I was limping my sorry self back to the human.

I think he had laid a trap for me, cos I was dragged back to the evil vet man who had to stitch my my foot back together.

I couldn't believe the human abandoned me there and I woke with the cone of shame...again.

I have had nearly three weeks on lead walkies and am so bouncy that the human must know I'm ready to take revenge on the local squirrels...watch out cos I'm coming to get you!

Until next time
Have a pawsome month
Dusty

ON THE BOOKSHELF

Your dog and you

- By Gill Garratt

Just how successful the bond between man and dog is depends on the dog's ability to 'read' us and our moods, so the more we understand about our own behaviour, the better we can influence our dog's responses. The anxieties of an owner can be reflected in their dog's behaviour, and the same is true of a calm, even-tempered owner. A dog may be man's best friend, but first, we need to be our own best friend. This book will show you how.

Your dog and you ... understanding the canine psyche examines the relationship between people and dogs from a psychological perspective, incorporating Cognitive Behavioural Therapy (CBT) to facilitate this: uniquely, the first time that CBT has been used to help owners relate to their dogs. A dog's behaviour can be a reflection of the emotions an owner may be experiencing; it follows that insight into our behaviour using CBT to reduce emotional unrest will, in turn, be reflected in a dog's behaviour.

Detector Dog

- By Pam Mackinnon

Turn your dog's favourite pastime into your favourite hobby – and have fun together!

Detector dog guides you through the steps that will help you teach your dog how to detect a particular scent, no matter where it's located. Hidden in a bag, under a sofa, on a car, or up a tree, searching for this scent will turn your dog's favourite pastime into your favourite hobby.

Combining her detection skills with her work as a dog training and behaviour consultant, Pam developed the UK's most successful scentwork training programme that teaches all dogs to become detector dogs. With almost 30 years' experience, you and your dog are in safe hands as Pam takes you through each stage of scentwork, beginning with introducing your dog to a specific scent, through starter searches, and on to advanced work, indoors and out.

IN THE KITCHEN

Article By: Fred and Tess

We like to mooch at breakfast time especially when Mum has her porridge. Mum says “porridge isn’t for dogs” which we took as a challenge. BOL!

You can add anything dog friendly to our porridge, Tess picked raspberries and I picked blueberries.

Dad made a smiley face with my fruit, which earned him a nose-bump.

Doggy Porridge

Ingredients:

110g porridge oats

720ml water

240ml coconut milk

Handful of whatever takes your fancy

Method:

1. Add the water to a pan and bring to a boil.
2. Add the porridge oats and stir to mix. Reduce heat to a simmer and cook for 4 mins.
3. Add the coconut milk and mix together.
4. Let it cool to eatable temperature then mix in your fruit if using.

Storage

Will keep in the fridge for two days or freeze

If you have cooking or any other hobby, why not send in an article about it.

It could feature in a future issue of my newspaper and on my website

INTERVIEW WITH... HUBBLE

Hubble Tell me a little bit about yourself.

I am Hubble. Also known as 'da Hubster'.

Dad is pekewliar about names. He doesn't like 'ordinary' ones! Everyone asks if I'm named after the telescope, but I'm not. I'm named after the man who the telescope is named after.

I am a gorgeous English Springer Spaniel I live in Scottyland and am 10years old in September. I have had metal knees in me back legs since 9 months old, because the ligaments didn't work. I challenge anyone to spot me disability! It has never slowed me down! Although me does get a bit stiff and sore after big zoomies, these days

How many humans/siblings do you have and long have you had them?

Me family is quite small, but not pawfectly formed! I live with me mum, dad and pesky furbruv Ed. I have lived wiv mum & dad since I was a nipper of 8 weeks old. When I came here, I had a fursis called Skia. She was PAWSOME and taught me everything I know.

Do you work? If so where/ what do you do?

I does the supervising of the property. We has horses living next door to us.

They is very cheeky & eats our hedge.

So I make sure they know when they is overstepping the mark. Loudly!

I also protect the property from cats, hares and the neighbour. No one knows why I don't like the neighbour. It's a secret & I'm not telling!

If you could choose your name what would it be?

King Hubble

What is your favourite food?

Whatever my people have on their plates!

Where is your favourite place to be?

Hmmm....that's very tricky. I like my own space. I like to curl up in the corner of the garden & contemplate life, the universe & fox poo. I also LOVE zoomies at the beach...

What is your favourite way to entertain yourself (annoy your humans)?

To not let on where I am, when I am enjoying my own space, curled up in the garden in the rain or snow. It is so much fun watching my people search! They are rubbish at it!

What is your greatest accomplishment?

Putting up with Ed!

What is your next goal in life?

Good question.... To help mum & dad win the lottery so I can spend all day & every day at the beach!

If you could be/do anything for a day, what would it be?

That is tricky. I'm pretty content with my life, just pottering around, keeping an eye on my people & guarding the property. If I could just do that, without Ed annoying me for games, that would be pawfect!

Finally and most importantly...What was your human's most embarrassing moment?

BOL! There has been a few!

She says she remembers walking along a beach with her first dog, Max.

He LOVED little children & ice cream. She looked around for Max & saw him walking along next to a little girl, who licked her ice cream cone, gave it to Max for a lick, then had another lick herself....!

The parents were oblivious! She had to pay for another ice cream!

DUKE AT CRUFTS

By Repawter: Duke

The greatest dog show Crufts 2020 came to Birmingham on the 5-8th March 2020. Just inside hall 3 were these massive letters

Star and I Went on the Thursday (Toy & Utility Dogs) and the Sunday (Terrier & Hounds Day). After visiting the logo Star and I went a short distance to the Greyhound booth on Discover dogs. For a greyhound like me it's to offer cuddles, leans and generally look cute. For the humans it is to answer any questions the public may have about how to home a hound, like are we good with other animals, children and issues regarding collars, harnesses and even about my bald bum. The hoomans sent many people to their friends at Dorwest herbs

www.dorwest.com/ who do many tablets and herbal medicines that can help with anxiety, skin and coat problems and joint issues.

Whilst on the discover dogs stand a lady came to ask if we could go to the Crufts Logo to be in the scene with Claire Balding filming the start of Crufts. Unfortunately Star was by some naughty dogs and it meant she wouldn't settle. So if you saw the programme you may have seen her bottom.

After my time on the Discover dogs stand it was rude not to go shopping at the 400+ stands that are at Crufts. I went to the Core dog food www.wellnesspetfood.com/

natural-dog-food/core stand and tasted some of their treats they were nommie.

I also tried for the first time some biltong specially for dogs. <https://www.bybenji.com/about-bybenji/>

As you can see by the photo I loved it. Hoomans got some training treats and some biltong topper that Star has when she is fussy and doesn't want to eat her food.

Whilst at Crufts the hoomans also watched agility, flyball and saw some of the other channel 4 articles being filmed. I can't wait until next years Crufts 2021 which is 11-14th March.

PRODUCT REVIEW - WOOF GLIDER

My other human bought me a Woof Glider from a local supermarket.

Product:

Woof Glider

Cost:

£12.99

Date Bought:

March 2020

Brief Description:

A toy that is intended to glide on any surface. It has a rubber dome shaped top with a squeaky inside and a hard smooth plastic base. It is heavier than I expected.

Review:

Looking at the toy it is claimed and designed so that it should slide across any surface and not damage anything it bounces off.

The slide aspect is not a smooth sailing as advertised. Thicker carpets will provide some resistance and slow the toy down. Thinner carpets and wood flooring will allow the toy to slide easily.

The actual review consisted of my human sliding it once across the carpet (slid okay on the medium thickness carpet) I pounced on it like a lurcher possessed !

Bit and picked it up by the dome, which gave out a pitiful squealing/squeaking noise and never made a sound again.

I flipped it over with my nose and grabbed it in my mouth and bit down on it to break it open - as you do.

It survived the chomp down and my human took it off me to slide across the carpet again.

I dived on it with absolute enthusiasm and flip/grabbed it in my mouth again,. Then flung it across the room like an Olympian throwing a discus.

Thankfully it narrowly missed anything fragile...then my human took it off me.

Rating:

2/10 Paws

So definitely not lurcher proof or safe. £12.99 for less than 2 minutes - not good for me or my human's budget.

It may be suitable for smaller dogs that play much gentler than me and do not have a need to destroy toys in seconds.

INTERVIEW WITH - FRED

Tell me a little bit about yourself.

I am 42 kilos of rippling muscle wrapped up in a red fawn fur greyhound suit.

I did three races but on the last one I collided with another dog and got injured. This is when I decided to quit the racing lark and rescue my humans at the end of 2017.

They needed quite a bit of training but have come along nicely and now know basic commands like "tummy scratch", "walk time", "get off my bed" and "I am starving to death".

My hobbies are digging up the front garden, producing amazing smells and lying in inconvenient places.

How many siblings do you have and long have you had them?

I have one fur sister Posy who came to us nearly two years ago, and a teen, tween and two mini hoos who were part of the rescue package.

Do you work? If so where/ what do you do?

Ssh, I am a professional robber! I am known for my exploits across several continents. My specialty is the snatch and run.

THEY NEVER FOUND THAT ROAST CHICKEN.

If you could choose your name what would it be?

Probably something well hard and tough sounding like Mr Snuffles.

What is your favourite food?

Ooh that's a tricky one because there are so many! Pizza is amazing, sossidges obviously, roast chicken, chicken nuggets, fried rice also anything stolen tastes better.

Where is your favourite place to be?

In the tween hoo's bed, while she sleeps on the floor.

What is your favourite way to entertain yourself (annoy your humans)?

I most enjoy licking my privates noisily and at length while others are trying to sleep.

I sometimes follow this with a good 3am whinge in the hall outside everyone's bedrooms.

What is your greatest accomplishment?

The time I stole the roast beef right from the kitchen table.

What is your next goal in life?

Steal an entire roast turkey.

Mum says I just have to believe in myself and I can do anything!

If you could be/do anything for a day, what would it be?

I would be mum and I would buy 14 roast chickens from the shops and feed them to me!

Finally and most importantly...What was your human's most embarrassing moment?

Probably when I slipped my leash and went on a wild rampage through the school on the mini hoos' first day back from summer holidays.

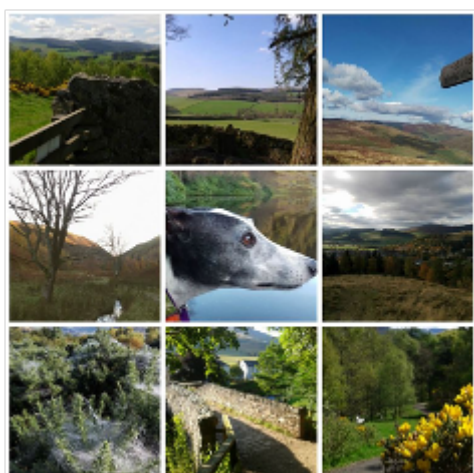

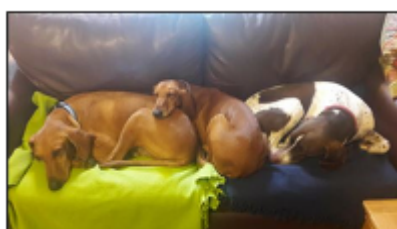

I tore through the playground at 70kph with 5 year olds scattering out of my way and the older kids screaming "it's Fred!" I led them on a wild chase through the school grounds before finally coming to rest in the 7 yr old's classroom, much to everyone's delight.

Mum says she will never live it down.

ANIMAL CHARITIES

TIA GREYHOUND AND LURCHER RESCUE

Tia Greyhound and Lurcher Rescue

About:

Tia is the largest rescue/home finding sanctuary in the North of England offering a home to up to 100 greyhounds at any one time.

No greyhound is put to sleep ...once it has reached Tia, unless he/she is ill and suffering.

Half of the dogs are brought in by their caring owners/trainers. The other half are strays.

We are not anti-racing. Just against the way the industry disregards the greyhounds welfare.

We receive no money from the racing industry but rely solely on the general public's generosity.

We have ten charity shops and fund raise almost every weekend to care for the dogs in our care.

We have huge public support and a small army of volunteers who make Tia the success that it is.

If you can help in any way, please do! Thank you, Deb and all the Tia dogs, rehomed, and waiting.

To allow us to care for large number of dogs in our care we are only open to visitors from Monday to Sunday between the hours of 10 am and 4pm

NORFOLK GREYHOUND RESCUE

Norfolk Greyhound Rescue

About Us:

Founded in September 2015.

We are a small non profit organisation with the aim to find caring people to rehome Irish greyhounds, ex racers and ones that never made it to the track.

We are based around Norwich and North Norfolk coast as we don't have kennels as such as we get all of our rescued hounds into foster homes so that they can experience the life of luxury and our fosterers can assess and work on any training.

All of our fosterers are experienced rescuers and we have a qualified animal behaviourist on board for any issues that may arise.
