NEW DOG PARK OPENS

A brand new dog park has just opened in Hedley on the Hill in Northumberland.

Pippa's Pals Paw Park

Not only was I invited along to report on the grand opening I was able to have my very first product stall. Woo Hoo!

First of all I have to admit we did get a little bit lost on the way, but it was well worth the drive.

The field was HUGE with plenty of space for dogs to run around and get thoroughly worn out.

In total there are 4 acres, which are split into two parts. The first field has some agility equipment for dogs to enjoy.

The second field is for dogs that require a less noisy off lead experience or prefer to be alone.

The Grand opening was a great success as there were plenty of dogs enjoying running around the field, playing and enjoying the agility equipment.

There was a pool there that was very popular too.

The wind was a bit of a factor as my humans, and other stalls had gazebos. With it being a little bit (understatement) windy. Some stalls were trying to make their escape into the next field.

If you are looking for a fun off lead field and you are in the area it is definitely worth the visit.

The field can be booked privately too.

Overall despite the weather it was a great day for everyone that turned up and I got to meet some new friend there.

Shout outs to: Archie, who was a bouncy high energy dog that decided it was his sole duty to meet and greet everyone, both human and dog, that entered the field.

Everyone enjoyed his efforts and even though it was at high speed in places, he was greeted back with the same enthusiasm.

I also met Brandon. The not so successful scone raider. He bounded over (under, around and even onto) my stall to say hello and try to relieve my other human of their freshly opened pack of scones!

A MESSAGE FROM TIGGER

Hi readers,
Another month and another newspaper. Thank you all for still being here.

After last month's chaos of the printed newspapers, the online newspapers were unaffected, I am happy to say that with my new printer everything has gone a lot smoother.

I have added a 'Tigger's Shop' page to my website. I will be adding stock as soon as I can.

Halloween is almost upon us and along with loads of extra pawsome treat opportunities, it is also the prelude to the dreaded firework season.

Let's live in hope the humans minimize the use of fireworks to a few selected nights instead of a constant barrage from Halloween until the new year.

Nose bump to you

NEWS FROM DORIS - THE ROVING REPORTER

Greetings my roving pals.
This month my adventures took me on a mini holibobs to Rye in East Sussex.

As it was school holidays and the local campsite was charging a stonking £75 a night for a motorhome pitch, we 'wild' camped at a couple of pubs.

Our first night was in the car park of the White Hart in Netherfield and I loved it.

A lovely dog friendly pub with a beautiful countryside view and bunnies everywhere.

Our second was further towards Romney Marsh and called the Woolpack Inn, wooden beams and all.

Rye describes itself as a 'fortified hilltop town' and it certainly is hilly! The town used to be coastal but now the harbour and fishing fleet sits a mile or so inland.

It has cobbled streets and timbered buildings, it's very, very pretty.

Sadly it poured with rain whilst we were there but fear not pals, it's ludicrously dog friendly!

It seemed harder to find a pub, café or ye olde shoppe that didn't allow dogs in.... I went everywhere. And so it seemed did fellow travelling dogs.

Every hotel door I saw had a dog organising it's anorak and day pack for a mooch around town. It's a 5 paw rating for Rye!

I wanted to go further on to Camber Sands or Dungeness but the humans had been loads before. Honestly, you'd think it was about them?

Never mind, I will get them trained one day.

So long pals and happy travelling, however near or far.

Doz,
<https://dozontour.blog/>

Hi folks,
I've had a fab month, enjoying the windy weather, and have been bouncing round like a pupster on a sugar high!

The gales released lots of huge sticks from the trees, so I have had my pick of branches to run around with on walkies, and to rescue from the river, although the human doesn't seem to agree with me about bigger being better in this instance, and says if she wrecks her back throwing half a tree for me to retrieve, I won't get any walkies at all!

I decided to try jumping on her to get her to play, but I don't think she was in the mood for a game of wrestling with a muddy dog judging by the shrieks that followed!

I also had my first trip on a train this month, and was impeccably behaved. My silly human lost her car keys and we had to get on the train to go out and about and to go on interesting walkies. I loved meeting lots of new peeps, but the human was rather grumpy about the sofa on wheels being out of action. Oh well, I guess we can't all be happy at once! I hope the students whose shopping I tried to snaffle told all their friends what a good dog I was!

Until next time.

Have a pawsome month.

Dusty

Hi Fur Pals!

That time of year is upon us when the humans want to dress us in silly costumes, and put the camera in our face more than ever.

We cannot understand why the humans get some kind of amusement out of humiliating and degrading us.

It's different, though, for doggies who are willing to please humans more than cats are.

Dogs know that the treats are coming if they wear a costume well, and allow themselves to be paraded around for fun.

YODA AND CHEEZLT'S SCRATCHING POST

Most dogs are naturally made better for costumes. They are bigger, have longer legs, and don't care what their human asks them to do as long as they get a good amount of loving and goodies afterwards.

Most kitties are so much smaller than dogs. Most of us don't have long dog-like legs. Since we are more compact beings, most costumes/clothing on us feels bulky (like a snowsuit). That is especially true for us bigger cats.

We are already hauling extra cushion somewhere on our bodies. We do not need more! Momma tried to put outfits on Butter Bean so he wouldn't lick his wound...and he wiggled out of everything every time! He wasn't having any part of it.

It's easy for us to escape due to our flexibility. We have fur! We were not made for clothes (except the naked cats and dogs) It's true that some cats look good dressed up. That's only because they are like super meow-dels...taller, thinner, better at walking the catwalk.

We don't care about pleasing the humans to get treats. We just stare at them and use our powers of mind control. This is our cat-ish observation of the Halloween season.

Til next month, Yoda and CheezIt (and ButterBean)

INTERVIEW WITH BILLY

Tell me a little bit about yourself.

My name is Billy, I'm 10 next month and I was adopted nearly 4 years ago. I now live in Sussex.

How many humans/siblings do you have and long have you had them?

I have two humans, Emma and Damien. No siblings.

My humans have tried to adopt a sibling so I would have company but I'm happiest being the only dog in the house.

Do you work? If so where/ what do you do?

I used to be a racer but I was very happy to be retired.

If you could choose your name what would it be?

I'm pretty happy with Billy.

What is your favourite food?

Chicken – I often get to share a roast chicken with my dad. Next best is tripe....delicious. I'm quite partial to pigs ears, cheese and ice cream too.

Where is your favourite place to be?

Anywhere with my humans but my favourite two places would be on the sofa or the back seat of the car.

The sofa's for snoozing but in the car I like to stand up and watch the world go by.

What is your favourite way to entertain yourself (annoy your humans)?

I love digging holes. I am always getting told off for this and I still haven't been able to figure out why.

A hole is a lovely addition to any garden.

What is your greatest accomplishment?

Getting rehomed and going from racer to pet has been pretty great.

That and managing to get hold of my mum's birthday cake last year.

I managed to eat nearly 3/4 before she noticed.

What is your next goal in life?

To dig a new hole in the garden and to figure out how to break the lock on the kitchen bin.

If you could be/do anything for a day, what would it be?

I would love to go to work with dad.

The saddest part of my day is when he leaves the house and the best part of my day is when he returns.

So I'd love to go with him to work and spend all day with him.

Finally and most importantly...What was your human's most embarrassing moment?

At Christmas mum fell over in the park, in front of other dogs and humans.

Very embarrassing. I had to try and pretend that she wasn't with me.

Would you would like to be interviewed for my website and newspaper too ?

EVER WANTED TO BE...?

Have you ever wanted to be a budding blogger, a roving repawter or a pawsome puparazzi ?

I am looking for animals that have always wanted to do some articles, stories or reviews.

As my newspaper is now read around the world it would be great to get animals from different areas, regions, states, and countries that would enjoy submitting articles for my newspaper and website.

Everything sent in will be credited to the animal that submitted it.

You are free to send in one or several. The choice is yours.

What am I looking for?

-Any animal friendly businesses and services in your area.

-Favourite dog friendly walks, parks and beaches
- Events

-Reviews of dog friendly places you have visited

- Stories

- Poems

-Recipes

-topics you or your humans work in or have very good knowledge about. As long as it is relevant to animals.

-Hints and Tips

- Health

-Training

The list is (almost) endless.

whatever you send in has to be;

- Work that is yours.

- Family friendly

- Not offensive or aimed at discrediting a third party

- Animal related

As an attempt to pre answer expected questions you may have.

Do I need prior experience of writing?

No, anyone can submit content.

- Anyone with small humans that help them write must get and show they have gained permission from their parents.

Is there any payment for submitting content?

No. There is no payment for submitting content, As you can see both my website and newspaper is free for everyone to enjoy. Plus is the thought of being #AlmostNearlyFamous not enough? BOL!

Can I send lists and lists of dog friendly businesses or places to visit?

No. As I have always tried to be an ethical and honest dog, I always gain permission from the business or location owners before I list or write about them.

I sent in something but it has not been published yet, Why?

Some may need to be verified or gain permission before publishing.

Also there may be a lot of content sent in from several animals and there has just not been the room to include in a current issue of the newspaper.

Do I need to send in content every month?

You are free to send in once or send in several. The choice is yours. You have no deadlines to meet so there is no pressure on you.

I am interested in sending in content or would like more information. What do I do?

You can contact me by email at:

tigger@tigger.club

If you have other ideas to add to my newspaper and web-site. I am happy to hear from you too.

FIREWORKS

October means Halloween, which is usually the start of fireworks.

Although there are always a lot of reminders about dogs and Halloween all animals need to be remembered and looked after during fireworks.

Humans may forget about cats, horses in fields, rabbits in hutches and even fish in ponds.

Any and all animals may get stressed to the point of harming themselves if scared by the flashes and bangs of fireworks.

Fish are a very much forgotten victim of fireworks.

The vibrations of the bangs, The sudden flashes or even a spent firework landing in their water could poison them.

Whatever animal type you are please remind your humans to take extra care of you and check you are safe.

If you are indoors, get your humans to shut the curtains and turn the television or radio up to try to reduce the noise outside.

You can get your humans to make you a nest somewhere you feel safe. Either in your crate (if you use one), in a corner of a room or in the not allowed bed.

Try a tight fitting jumper to mimic being hugged to help calm you down.

If you are outside get your to put your in your stable, cover your hutch with extra protection or check your pond for fireworks.

Get them to check on you at regular intervals, so if nothing else you can see they are near by.

Make sure your microchip is up to date and if you are a cat or dog that normally live in the house without a collar on, get your human to put your collar on. As a moment of panic in a normally secured garden can cause us to leap tall fences or even crash through them.

If after everything you still are too stressed out because of fireworks get your human to speak to your vet as you may need medical help to remain calm.

Above everything else ... stay safe out there furlpals.

TIGGER...THE JOURNEY CONTINUES

Now that I have teamed up and become a stockist of some pawsome businesses , I have also started to dip my paw into doing stalls to sell my stock and hand out some of my newspapers to spread the word about my website and newspaper.

I will try to attend as many events as I can with my stall. So keep an eye out on my website and throughout my social media for event announcements.

The products I am a stockist for are:

Lilymoo Canine Couture

Treats2sit4

K9 Organics

Paracord Leads North East

I am also in the process of creating my own products to sell.

I have created a Tigger Shop on my website.

You are not able to buy directly via my website yet but you can email me to discuss your order at : tigger@tigger.club

If you are a business in the North East and are interested in stocking some of these products too, please get in touch.

REVERSE SNEEZING

Reverse sneezing or Pharyngeal gag reflex to give it its proper name, is an involuntary thing dogs and even cats do.

It does not occur very often which is why most humans that have not seen it before may find it distressing to watch, especially if they have never seen a reverse sneeze before.

It is a very sudden, explosive and accompanied by a lot of loud snorting and snuffling which is why it gets the more common name of reverse sneezing.

The main reason for it is an irritation to the soft palate or throat.

You may see your humans doing this when they have a sudden coughing fit for no reason.

It is similar except we have a much more dramatic and loud reaction.

Causes of reverse sneezing could be eating or drinking too quickly, rushing around and getting too excited, dust or pollen or in my case lying down in a sort of failed flat pack position that restricts the airflow a little bit too much.

Still talking about normally healthy dogs, this is more often associated with short faced animals, although if you are a pointy nosed sighthound like me you will be very used to reverse sneezing.

You need to explain to your humans how to help, not that help is always needed, but it makes the humans feel more comforted at the time.

Tell them to raise your head and open your mouth to allow more air in, or gently hold your nostrils for a few seconds which will cause you to open your mouth and allow more air in.

Or just gently rub your throat from the jaw downwards.

In most cases reverse sneezing does not require medical assistance but if you are a dog or cat that has a medical condition, especially a respiratory condition reverse sneezing may be more than just an isolated event.

If at any time your human is not sure or is concerned then please tell them to seek advice from your veterinarian.

AS THE COLDER WEATHER STARTS

As the cold weather starts to make an appearance and your humans begin to bring out the thicker blankets tell them not to throw out old blankets, bedding and towels.

Instead of throwing them out tell them to donate them to local shelters and rescues for all the animals, all animals, not just dogs.

Rescues and shelters are always in need of bedding. Shelters may also take other things your humans may not be aware of such as unused animal food and used toys. Not shredded ones but ones that may no longer squeak or may be looking a bit faded but still safe to play with.

Some shelters and rescues rely on funding by running bric a brac stall and tombolas, so any unused household goods may be useful.

Before landing at the door of the rescues and shelters with arms full of items contact them to make sure they are in need of the items you have put to one side.

Your human may have nearly thrown these items out, but a lot of shelters will be grateful to receive them.

INTERVIEW WITH FRED AND TESS

Tell me a little bit about yourself.

Fred - I am an English Springer Spaniel aged 13 years.

Tess - I am a Working Cocker Spaniel aged 7 years. We live in East Lothian.

How many humans/siblings do you have and long have you had them?

Fred and Tess - We have Mum, Dad and two brothers.

Fred - I adopted the humans 3 1/2 years ago, after being introduced through Springer Rescue for Scotland.

Tess - I have owned the humans since I was a puppy.

Do you work? If so where/ what do you do?

Fred - I am a social-media celebrity and have my own Facebook page with almost 100 followers. I keep my page up-to-date with stories about my daily activities and general antics.

Tess - I am a full-time house-dog. I help Mum by checking in the fridge for excess food and reminding her when treats are due.

If you could choose your name what would it be?

Fred - Before meeting me, Mum thought that she would change my name. But, when she saw me, decided that I do indeed look like a "Fred" (whatever that means!)

Tess - It took my humans long enough to agree on "Tess", so I think I will keep this name.

What is your favourite food?

Fred and Tess - Being typical spaniels, we like all types of food, but especially fish and chips, ninny nannas (bananas), yiggy yoggy yoos (yogurts) and treatsies.

Tess - Fred likes cat poop too!

Fred - And Tess likes horse poop! BOL!

Where is your favourite place to be?

Fred - I am Sir Frederick of Warkworth (so Mum and Dad call me) and like going there on holiday to inspect my castle.

At home, I have my own chair where I must sit each evening, or I will refuse to go to bed later.

Tess - To match Fred's title, I am known as Lady Tess Dubois of Warkworth. At home, my favourite place is wherever Mum is, while Fred is a dad's boy! Also, I like to sit on the sofa in between Mum and Dad.

What is your favourite way to entertain yourself (annoy your humans)?

Fred and Tess - Barking! BOL!

Fred - I like to clean myself several times a day. Not only am I a very precise cleaner, but I can make a lot of noise doing so.

Tess - I like to push my way through the closed curtains of the sitting-room in the evening to growl at any one who goes past our house.

What is your greatest accomplishment?

Fred - Choosing to come and live with Mum, Dad and Tess! I was fostered through Springer Rescue for Scotland, but only for a month until Mum, Dad and Tess came to collect me.

Not only did I get excited when I first met them (which wasn't normal for me), but I slept all the way home in the car and woke up of my own accord as we were approaching home.

Tess - I used to do dog-agility and was so fast that Mum could never keep up with me! And I have ninja skills when it comes to jumping up to steal food!

What is your next goal in life?

Fred - I am desperate to get access to the box where Tess's soft-toys are stored, as I am a serial shredder!

Tess - I want to invent a fridge which opens when I growl at it!

If you could be/do anything for a day, what would it be?

Fred - I would like to go to work with Dad, as I miss him when he is away.

Tess - I would like to be a food-sampler in a bakery or a butcher's shop.

Finally and most importantly ...What was your human's most embarrassing moment?

Fred - Not long after Mum and Dad adopted me, I was out for a walk with Mum and Tess.

We were walking up the high street in our town when I tried to drag Mum and Tess across the road.

Mum didn't want to cross the road, but I was not going to move anywhere other than across the road.

Finally, I got my way and dragged Mum and Tess across the road and tried to enter William Hill bookies!

Also, I like to raid the washing basket and take underwear on my walk!

Tess - I think Dad was rather embarrassed after his car failed its MOT because I had nibbled four of the five seat-belts.

The car was off the road for two weeks whilst new seat-belts were ordered at a cost of £1,000.

Mum was once embarrassed by the smell in the house, after I had run through my own poo in the garden before coming inside and leaving mucky paw-prints all along the hall-carpet, up the stairs, over Mum and Dad's bed and over my brother's bed too. BOL!

RECIPE - DEAFIE'S MAGIC BISCUITS

I call them Magic Biscuits, coz houndies that eat them get their appetite back I hope you enjoy them - Deafie

Ingredients:

1 sweet potato cooked then mashed
1 chicken breast cooked then cut up
1/2 cup of strawberries
1/2 tablespoon parsley
1 cup rice flour

I use a mix of brown and white but can be just brown rice.
Water up to 1/4 cup

Preparation:

Turn the oven on to 350 degrees Fahrenheit
Mix all the ingredients (bar the water) in a big bowl
Add water until a nice dough is formed.
Make 1/2 inch dough balls .
Place on a tray lined with baking parchment or a silicone mat or something to stop them sticking to the tray.

Squish the dough balls to make flattened biscuits

Bake for 10 minutes
Turn off the oven and open the door to let the biscuits cool in the oven.

Once cool, and if you haven't already raided the cooling oven...enjoy your biscuits.
